Get in touch with your community and help the next generation to succeed...

Inspire

We are looking to recruit and train successful local people to inspire the younger generation of today to want to continue with their education, so their dreams and future goals can be achieved.

- Did someone make a difference for you?
- Did you have to overcome any obstacles to become successful?
- Is your story inspiring?

Not only will you tell your inspirational story to teenagers but also to parents so that they encourage them to have aspirations for the future. We also want to inspire local employers to understand the benefits that the younger generation have to offer.

Would you like to help change attitudes by acting as a local Ambassador?

Guide

As an Ambassador you will receive free training on how best to tell your story, how to overcome those dreaded nerves, how to identify body language and how ethnic and cultural behaviours can have an effect on attitudes.

This training will not only help you when involved with this project but could also help with other areas of your life in the future.

Once the training is complete we will need you to spread the word and this will require a small time commitment (approximately once a month) from you for the duration of the project to tell your inspirational story. It may involve attending schools, community centres or youth clubs to talk to teenagers or to attend specific events and groups to speak with parents and employers. Travel expenses will be reimbursed.
